All large plants shipped by express at purchaser's expense and risk as we are not responsible for delay or damage after delivery to express company. Make all claims for delay or damages in transit to them. No plants shipped by freight. We do not guarantee plants, shrubs or seed of any kind to grow. If there has been any mistake in filling your order we must be notified at once, otherwise will not be responsible for after treatment or results. Please remember this. Do not delay a day, week or month, but notify us promptly and we will rectify or make good any just claim. Orders for plants to be sent by mail will be held till we consider it safe to send without danger of freezing. If ordered mailed earlier they will go at your risk. We recommend that all plants be shipped by express as they can be shipped a any time with perfect safety. When shipped by express the earth goes with every plant; in this way the roots are not disturbed and plans arrive in better condition than when sent by mail as the earth is removed when packing for mail. When plants are received, especially those sent by mail, they should be potted in as small pots as possible, watered and kept in parial shade for a few days till plants start to grow. Do not over-water, as it woud do more harm than good.

Keep your plant orders separate from seed orders and write only one item on a line.
